What is the Official Marking Scheme for GAT?

Understanding the marking scheme allows candidates to calculate estimated scores accurately. The General Ability Test paper carries 600 marks distributed across 150 multiple-choice questions.

Every correct answer earns equal marks, while incorrect answers attract negative marking. Following the official marking scheme ensures realistic score estimation.

Exam Parameter	GAT Paper Marking Scheme
Total Questions	150 Multiple Choice Questions
Total Marks	600 Marks
Marks per Correct Answer	+4 Marks
Negative Marking	-1.33 Marks
Unattempted Questions	0 Marks
Exam Duration	2 Hours 30 Minutes

A systematic calculation of correct and incorrect responses provides a reliable estimate of your expected score.

How to Calculate Your Score Using the Answer Key?

Calculating your expected score requires a systematic approach. Keep your question paper and the corresponding NDA 2 2026 Answer Key ready before beginning.

- Count your correct answers.
- Multiply the number of correct answers by 4.
- Count your incorrect answers.
- Multiply the incorrect answers by 1.33.
- Subtract the negative marks from your total positive marks.

Formula:

Expected Score = (Correct Answers × 4) – (Wrong Answers × 1.33)

This method helps candidates estimate their written examination score with reasonable accuracy.

What Are the Expected Cut-Off Marks for 2026?

The expected cut-off depends on the difficulty level of the examination, the number of candidates, and the total vacancies announced by UPSC.

Selection Stage	Expected Cut-Off
GAT Minimum Qualifying Marks	25%
Written Examination Cut-Off	340–355 Marks (Out of 900)
Final Recommended Cut-Off	700–715 Marks (Out of 1800)

Candidates should aim to score well above the expected cut-off to improve their chances of qualifying for the SSB Interview.
